

An alcove at the side of the main hall has been fitted out as a library. At the rear of the Chapel is a south-facing courtyard: to the front there are lawns, with flowerbeds planted up by the Oxhill Garden Club. There is on street parking in the village.

Fees

The standard rate for use of the Chapel with all its facilities, including heating and lighting, is £15 per hour.

Daily rates and those for church groups are available on application.

THE OLD CHAPEL

OXHILL

The Old Chapel in Oxhill is set amongst the beautiful countryside and farmland of South Warwickshire. It has been designed as a place for Christian retreat, where groups of whatever size can take time out to meet and be together, to study or to pray, or for workshops, conferences or away days.

Its peaceful and calm space can be used:

- For concerts or talks,
- For several smaller groups,
- For worship, in the footsteps of those who worshipped here in the past,
- For informal gatherings or meals.
- For exhibitions

The Chapel is also available for use for private functions or receptions (perhaps following a Baptism or a Funeral).

Originally built as a Methodist Chapel in 1814 and extended by its Victorian congregation to provide a Sunday School room in 1839, the Chapel finally closed its doors as a place of worship in 2003. Since then it has been totally renovated, and brought up to contemporary standards of eco-efficiency and equipment.
